

2001 Builder of the Year

Carl McIntyre is president of Carrington Homes in Greenfield. Carl has served on the board of the Hancock County Builders Council since 1998 in positions of secretary and vice president. In 2000 he began his two year term as Hancock County Builders Council president. In addition to his work on the Hancock County Council, Carl serves on various governmental committees in Hancock County. He also currently serves on the BAGI workforce development and dues committees along with serving as a trustee of HomePAC.

2001 Associates of the Year

Mark Shiveley is an Account Manager for Sears Contract Sales. Mark has been chairperson of the Builders Association of Greater Indianapolis' Ambassador Committee since 1999. He has also served the Hancock County Builders Council as chairperson of the membership committee and a member of the Workforce Development Committee. In 2001 Mark was honored with the Esprit de Corps award from the Association.

Jim Greig has worked in the lending industry for 17 years. For the past two years he has been employed as Assistant Vice President and Branch Manager for Union Savings and Loan Association. He has served the Hancock County Builders Council in a two-year term as secretary for the Board of Directors. He has also chaired the New Home Tour and Holiday Party & Charity Fundraiser committees along with being involved on the public relations committee.

Special Award Announced

Dave Holloway of Central Indiana Power accepted an award in recognition of Central Indiana Power's longstanding support of the Hancock County Builders Council.