

The Builder of the Year and Associate of the Year awards are given to the builder and associate who have contributed the most towards the efforts of the Hancock County Builders Council in representing the construction industry in and around Hancock County.

2006 Builder Of The Year

Dale Langhans, co-owner of Kendaleton Builders, is this year's recipient of the Hancock County Builders Council Builder of the Year Award. This is the third time she has been recognized with this award.

Dale has contributed significantly to the Hancock County Builders Council over the year, where she is the current President and has served as a Board of Director member since 1999. She is also involved in many other community activities including Board of Directors member for The Greater Greenfield Chamber of Commerce and Hancock County Economic Development Council. Dale is also a Girl Scout leader.

Dale is pleased to have been elected to represent Hancock County as a Board Member of the Builders Association of Greater Indianapolis (BAGI) for the next two years.

Kendaleton Builders is a custom home builder offering planning, consulting, design and general contracting services.

2006 Associate Of The Year

Marion Hammond, owner of SonShine Sound & Video LLC, was selected as the 2006 Associate of the Year for Hancock County Builders Council.

Marion has been involved with the Builders Council since 2003 and each year spends hundreds of hours working behind the scenes donating his time and talents to further the council goals. He also maintains the council's website www.hancockcountybuilders.com. He is also actively involved with church.

Marion designs and installs custom home theaters, multi-room sound systems, and security systems for residential and commercial buildings.

